AN ENJOYABLE OCCASION.

On the evening of the 28th of Jan., a merry croud of relatives and friends gathered at the hospitable home of Mr. William Vuncanon, on Banner Elk, to witness the marriage of his sweet and accomplished daughter, Miss Blanche, to that kind and amiable gentleman, Mr. Robert L. Lowe.

At 7, p. m., the parlor was fighted and the waiting company was rewarded by the presence of the beautiful one. who was soon to become a bride, dressed in white cashsion has recently been made mere, leaning on the arm of the one whom she considered to be her protector down the rugged stream of life. Mr. Hoyle, Presiding Elder of the M. E. Church, South, supper was announced and the party retired to the dining room where a most sumptuous repast awaited them, to which

REGULAR.

Hold on a Minute.

Mr. Editor.—I am told that brother J. Younce, clerk of the Association, attacks me this week throught the columns of your paper, and it seems now a duty that I owe to myself and my name to speak a word.

I am willing to take the blame for the delay of the minutes, to some extent, for the following reasons:—I was hindered about getting the kind of paper I wanted for the winutes; had sickness in my family which made my worthy of her love, and was cares and responsibility here greater. I had then done about one half of the work, and tried to get some one to finish it, but failed then, but kept working on them as best I could under the eircumstances, and finally succeeded in getting the tables etc., printed by some one else. I am not willing to take the blame for the mistakes occurring. The manuscript "was a marvel." Words were miss-spelled; capital letters, periods and commas were used at leisure, and all manner of unreadable figures and flourishwere used all the way through. He never mentioned a single time the names of those made by Dra. Taylor, Durleading ministers of the Association, and he said, "I like the manuscript, to show those members of the Associthe office.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

G. O. Lepper. Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind., writes: "My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitts that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine, saying he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral ffull satisfied she was entirely well. This indisputable evidence of the great merit of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has given me unbounded confidence in the preparation, and I recommend in the preparation, and I recommend to my customers, knowing it can

"A short time ago, I was taken with a severe attack of bronchitis. The remedies ordinarily used in such cases failed to give me relief. Almost in despair of ever finding anything to cure me. I bought a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was helped from the first dose. I had not finished one bottle before the disease left me, and my throat and lungs were as sound as ever."—Geo. B.
